"She Said Nothing"

Gifuy, age 31, from Ghana, attends a Seventh Day Adventist church. She was undecided and pro-choice when she came to Gateway in early spring. After watching the Harder Truth, she said nothing. 17-year Gateway veteran, Vi Brown, called and wrote her over the next few months. Finally, we reached her by telephone. She had changed her mind and is due in early November!

"She Changed Her Mind!"

Cathy, age 18, came to Gateway-Irvington thinking she was pregnant. She intended to have an abortion until she saw The Harder Truth and she changed her mind! She said she 'would not kill her baby'. She is starting school this month. The test was negative. Cathy intends to wait to have sex until after finishing school (and hopefully, marriage!)

Michelle, age 22, is a Christian. She came to Gateway-Irvington in June as 'undecided'. She was able to explain to Sherry the plan of salvation. She stopped going to church a while ago but started pursuing Christ. She was "very disturbed and sad" after viewing The Harder Truth. She will consider adoption or parenting. We referred her for a sonogram to our satellite office in Elizabeth.

Recent email

Jovanka, age 23, lives in Valley Stream, Long Island, NY. She writes this: "They said 12 weeks then the abortion guy told me six which I think he lied anyway." Confused as to whether she was pregnant or not, Jovanka was referred to a local crisis pregnancy center in Suffolk County.

Margardia, wrote from Lisbon, Portugal requesting help after many years on the birth control pill. We were able to refer her to a crisis pregnancy center (Factos da Vida) in Lisbon!
